Sponsored Walk
Wait a minute, it stopped raining!!! Just in time for the walkers, not only to get around the route dry, but the sun came out so it was quite warm. 37 hardy parishioners took part and we all met up in the parish hall for a well-earned drink. A huge THANK YOU to everyone who took part, to everyone who helped in any way on the day and to all the sponsors. Now it's the hard part for all the sponsors who need to cough up their money! Thank you so much.

World Communications Day
Today we are asked to pray for those who work in the media: O God, whose word is truth and in whose light we see light, guide those who tell the story of our times through word and image. Make them seekers after truth and advocates of human dignity. Grant them discernment to all who rely on their labours, and, as we confront the pain and promise of this world, awaken in us a sense of wonder at Your presence and of longing for Your peace,
Through Christ Our Lord, Amen

LORD, HOLD ME...

I'm tired,
depressed,
hurt, sad,
and I'm alone.

I will always be with you and hold you

Remember, you are NOT ALONE

There are copies of the new edition of The Voice on the table in the porch, please take one home with you.

A film crew is on location in the Arizona desert. One day an old Indian goes up to the director and says, "Tomorrow rain." The next day it rains. Next day the Indian goes up to the director and says, "Tomorrow storm." The next day there's a hailstorm. The director is impressed and hires the Indian to predict the weather. However, after several successful predictions, the old Indian doesn't show up for two weeks. Finally the director sends for him. "I have to shoot a big scene tomorrow," he says. "What will the weather be like?" The Indian shrugs his shoulders and says, "Don't know. Radio broken."
